

Aldi shoppers hit by £10 charge just for entering supermarket

Sponsors Gaza
for seven sisters

Story by Patrick O'Donnell • 1h •

3 min read

Friday am 31 January 2025

IT scandal to overcharge shoppers as in post office

Aldi has sparked controversy over its £10 pre-payment charge for customers entering its checkout-free store in Greenwich, east London. Sponsors Gaza wars for seven sisters

The German-owned supermarket chain requires shoppers to pay a deposit before accessing its Shop & Go outlet, with the amount later deducted from their final bill.